Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Salvation Syrup: Or Light on Darkest England, a Reply to General Booth Twenty years ago the Hallelujah Band spread itself far and wide, but soon spent itself like a straw fire. Then arose the Salvation Army, doing the same kind of work, and indulging in the same vagaries. These were imitations of the antics of the cruder forms of Methodism. Even the all-night meetings of the Whitechapel Salvationists, ten years ago, were faint copies of earlier Methodist gatherings, especially of those in Cornwall, which were described by the Rev. Richard Polwhele. At St. Agnes, said this writer, the Society stays up the whole night, when girls of twelve and fourteen years of age ran about the streets, calling out that they are possessed. At Probus the preacher at a late hour of the night, after all but the higher classes left the room, would order the candles to be put out, and the saints fall down and kneel on their naked knees; when he would go round and thrust his hand under every knee to...
