The President read the resolution passed at the Extraordinary General Meeting (see p. 117) which he stated had been that afternoon brought before the Council, by whom it was being carefully considered. Dr. Armstrong, referring to the ruling given by the President at the previous meeting that a paper read in the absence of the author could not be discussed, drew attention to Bye-law XIV, and contended that this bye-law expressly provided that every paper communicated to the Society should be open to discussion. He stated that during the whole course of his experience, extending over 30 years, it had always been the practice of the Society, when the occasion arose, to discuss papers read in the absence of their authors. Dr. Perk In, in reply to a question by Dr. Armstrong, said that in the past papers had often been discussed in the absence of their authors. Dr. Divers said that having been resident in Japan when most of his papers were sent to the Society, he had always been willing that they should be discussed. Prof. Dunstan pointed out that Bye-law XIV evidently supposed that authors would be present to read their papers, and its directions could not be literally followed at the present time. In these matters, however, the Bye-law gave large discretion to the chairman. Mr.-W. P. Bloxam asked whether it was within the power of the President to closure or prevent discussion on any paper...
