Not illustrated. 1872 Excerpt: .cause for thankfulness, I, my Curates, and my People, that the more frequent opening of the Parish Church for Prayer, the multiplication of services, sermons, and Celebrations, numbering together 20 in each week, and the whole manner and order of the spiritual care and administration of the Parish, in the Church and out of it, have been largely blessed. It is painful to have to defend such things at all. It is especially painful when the assault is made upon them in the name of Religion by those who are, some of them at least, in their own persons, sad examples of habitual neglect of religious observances, and of disobedience to the Church s Law. It is an evil time when the protection of a Bishop is invoked in favour of neglect and disobedience by those who neglect and disobey. Even if I could see my...
